

La Rosa del Monte is more than meets the eye

BY JONATHAN MAY

Most people know La Rosa del Monte Express Inc. Most people know La Rosa del Monte is a giant when it comes to residential moves. Yet what most people don't know is that the company has an equally capable commercial division which deals with moving businesses and their equipment locally or globally. "For many years people knew our company moved people. Now we are looking to show them that we can bring that same expertise to the commercial market," said Maritza Torres, director of the company's commercial department.

More specifically, when it comes to commercial moves La Rosa del Monte focuses on pre-planning, attention to detail, and coordination. "We relocate many local offices into new facilities throughout the island as well as moving businesses and their equipment into, or out of, Puerto Rico," Torres said. "Our services include crating, packing, dismantling and assembling and warehousing," she added.

La Rosa del Monte has also recently purchased new rigging and other machinery. "In 2004 we purchased new rigging equipment so that we could ship larger items for major companies and manufacturers," Torres said. "We have also invested more than half a million dollars in new flatbeds, forklifts, air compressors, fingers and personnel." La Rosa del Monte has also invested in a new computer system that will allow it to keep better track of and locate shipments faster and more conveniently, according to Torres.

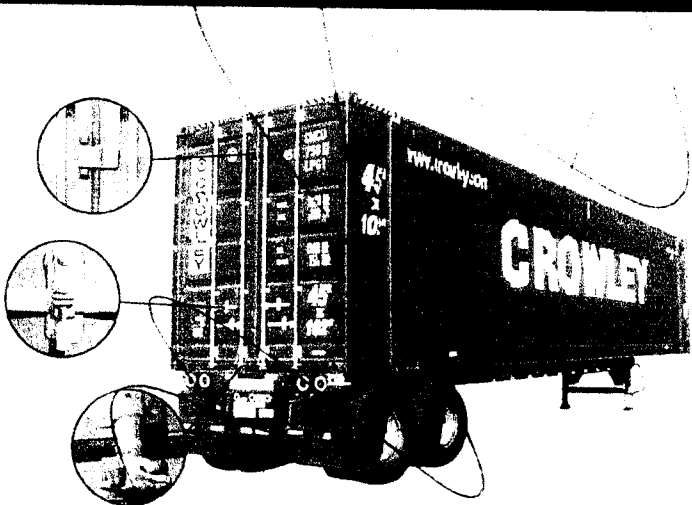

The company made the large investments to keep up with the market. "As unfortunate as it is, many manufacturing and pharmaceutical companies are moving off the island. In addition, the employees of the companies are having to relocate as well and in order to be able to handle this business we had to make some investments," she said. Torres added many local companies have been upgrading their facilities, which means they are in need of moving services as well.

As important as the machinery and equipment investments were, Torres said the company's most

Our equipment is incredibly foolproof, practically tamperproof and clearly proof of our commitment.

In the past year, Crowley acquired over 8,000 pieces of brand-new equipment to deliver your cargo safely and securely.

It's pretty evident that we're committed to our customers who ship between the U.S. and the Latin American, Puerto Rican and Caribbean markets.

For example, we recently added over 2,800 new 53' (102" wide) dry containers and chassis units. We also added a whole slew of new 45' (102" wide) and 40' high-cube dry containers along with 40' high-cube reefers to our Puerto Rico operations. And no matter where you're shipping, we keep your cargo extra safe. In fact, all our new containers and reefers come equipped with an extra bolt-type seal to lock each door to its frame, 3/8" thick heavy-duty door plating at the top and bottom, and special tamper-resistant round-headed huck bolts on all door-mounted hardware.

People who know Crowley know that our equipment is strong, and our people, systems and customer service are even stronger. To put this secure equipment and the dedicated Crowley team to work for you, just give us a call at 1-800-CROWLEY or visit www.crowley.com.
